The Farm

Michael Egeland Grade 11

The Egeland Farm is my favorite place to be. I love farming and I want to be a farmer when I grow up. Working at the farm is just so fun and I learn a lot of things there. I work with my cousins Rylan, Logan, and Grant, my brother Aaron, my uncles Eric, and Mark, and sometimes my grandpa helps at the farm as well. Lately, I just helped finish wheat harvest. I was driving the grain cart tractor, the 4440, because the 8230 was still being used for rotobeeating for pre-pile. And when we were around halfway done with wheat, we changed out the 4440 with the 8230 tractor, and let me tell you that it is so much better driving the 8230. It is much taller so I can see the semi-trailer better when I am unloading the wheat into them. And now I just finished replacing one of the combine header cutter blades, and setting up the combines for beans. We are growing both Dry Beans (Black Beans) and Soybeans, which Dry Beans should be ready for harvest in around a week or so. I hope I can drive the grain cart tractor again for bean harvest, and I think that I might also do some rotobeeating for SugarBeet harvest as well. So yeah, +uouh0hjousy stuff is coming up pretty soon but I don't care. I love farming anyways.

September!

Kaydee Volker Grade 10

September is the first month of the fall/autumn season, there are 30 days in September. There aren't very many holidays in the month of September, one known holiday is Labor Day that is on September 5th. There is the remembrance of 9/11, which was the day that the U.S. was attacked, the Twin Towers and Pentagon were hit by planes that were hijacked, many people had died that day, which led us to war. September zodiacs are Virgos and Libras, the birthstone for September is sapphire, and the flower for September is the aster and morning glory. Some famous people also celebrate their birthday in the month of September such as Adam Sandler, Zendaya, Beyonce, Will Smith, and many other famous people.

NFL

Ayden Olson Grade 9

This past Sunday was the first week of the 102nd NFL season. There were 16 games, and a lot of the game wins were surprises. But this is only the first week so we will see what happens. Dak Prescott ended up leaving the game, in the 4th quarter, against Tom Brady and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers with a hand injury. He will be out for several weeks with having to get surgery. The Dallas Cowboys put Cooper Rush in around 5 mins left of the game and will now play for several weeks. We had a surprise with the New York Giants game against the Tennessee Titans. The final score was 21-20. Not that bad of a loss but still. The Minnesota Vikings ended up beating the Green Bay Packers 23-7. We also had an upset with the San Francisco 49ers ending with a 19-10 lose over the Chicago Bears. The Miami Dolphins was also surprising, coming in with a 20-7 win over the New England Patriots. Lots of surprises but just the beginning.

Queen Elizabeth II

Pauline Sanchez 9th Grade

On April 21, 1926 she was born in Mayfair, London, United Kingdom. She was the first born child of the Duke and Duchess of York. When her father died in 1952 she became the queen at the age of 25. She was a queen in London for 70 years, which is the longest time being a queen in London. On September 8 of this year Queen Elizabeth II sadly died in her home in Balmoral Castle, Scotland, at the age of 96. She had her first child in 1948 (King Charles III), then her first daughter in 1950 (Princess Royal Anne), then her second son in 1960 (Andrew Duke of York), then her very last son in 1964 (Prince Edward).
